FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
THE SCHOOL OF LAW

The Public Interest Resource Center at Fordham Law School

thanks the entire law school community for its contributions to tonight's event. Your generosity in spirit and deed, and your sense of humor & whimsy are what make this Annual Auction so special.

Special thanks to the dynamic and hardworking Board of the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship: Sofya Abdurakhmanova, Blair Barton, Amanda Hersh, Melissa Moriarty, Rebecka Over, Giancarlo Stanton, Nicole Wetherell, Yeepan Penny Zhu and all the student volunteers.

We are proud to be the "home" of the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship and the additional 21 student initiated organizations involved in pro bono and community service work:

Consumer Law Advocates | Disaster Relief Network | Domestic Violence Action Center | Environmental Law Advocates | Farm to Fordham | Habitat for Humanity at Fordham Law School | Housing Advocacy Project | Health Education Advocacy and Law Society | Immigration Advocacy Project | Law Students Against Trafficking | Legal Education and Advocacy Project | Lincoln Square Neighborhood Children's Law Project | Mentoring Youth through Legal Education | Prisoners' Rights Advocates | Research, Education and Advocacy to Combat Homelessness | Stein Scholars Program in Public Interest Law & Ethics Suspension Representation Project | Unemployment Action Center Universal Justice | Workers' Rights Coalition | Youth Advocacy Law Association

We are also so proud of the summer public service work of each of the recipients of the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship.

We get so much joy from working with such an inspired, passionate, talented, skilled and loving group of lawyers-in training.

Tom Schoenherr, Assistant Dean of the Public Interest Resource Center
Andrew Chapin, Director of Counseling & Stein Scholars
Hillary Exter, Director of Student Organizations & Publicity
Abby Hernandez-Brown, Office Manager

Welcome to the 2013 Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship Auction!

The Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship would like to thank everyone for the continued support of our annual Auction. For 22 years, the entire Fordham Law community of alumni, faculty, administration, staff, students, and friends has worked together to provide hundreds of Fellowships to FSSF volunteers.

Those volunteers, in turn, have provided over 319,400 hours of service to a multitude of public interest organizations. Many FSSF volunteers have eventually gone on to careers in the public sector, and all have continued to work toward the public good—never forgetting their summer experiences. None of this would be possible without your involvement and generosity.

Good Spirits. Great Cause.

Dear Friends of the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship:

Welcome to the 22nd Annual Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship Public Service Auction! We are honored and excited to have you with us to celebrate this event. This year's theme of "Good Spirits. Great Cause." embodies everything the Auction is supposed to be. This evening we are recognizing FSSF's longstanding cause of supporting students who provide free legal services to deserving nonprofit legal organizations and government agencies. We hope you enjoy the food and cocktails, the time with friends and colleagues, and, most of all, the array of items we have up for auction!

FSSF is continually humbled by the generosity of our donors, and support of our friends, family, and community—and this year is no exception! We would especially like to thank our Fordham family—alumni, professors, and our fellow students—for making this event possible. Your continued support is a testament to the important work the Fellowship makes possible. For the past two decades, recipients of the Fellowship have dedicated their summers to providing free legal services to those who could not otherwise afford them. This commitment to the public interest sector is especially important. In our 22nd year, we would like to recognize all Fellowship recipients, past and present, and thank them for their hard work.

FSSF has become the organization it is today because of the encouragement, support and generosity of those around us. Specifically we would also like to thank the Public Interest Resource Center, the Office of the Dean, the Office of Development, the Office of Alumni Relations, Professor Gus Katsoris and the Fordham Law Alumni Association. You have all played a vital role in the planning and success of the Public Service Auction this year, and throughout its history.

As we celebrate the Fellowship's 22nd year, we hope you will raise your paddles in support of FSSF and its continued commitment to public service work!

March 7, 2013

Dear Alumni, Students, and Friends of Fordham Law School,

Welcome to the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship's 22nd Annual Public Service Auction. One of the highlights of each year at the Law School, the event unites members of the Law School community for a common cause—to generate funds that enable Fordham students to spend their summer working in public interest jobs. These jobs help provide much-needed legal services to underrepresented members of New York's diverse community. Your generosity here has a vital impact on people's lives for years to come.

In many ways, the FSSF Auction reinforces our collective commitment to educating lawyers who will exemplify Fordham Law's motto, "in the service of others." I'm confident you will be in good spirits this evening, enjoying great company and great fun as you support the auction and the truly great cause it represents.

I heartily congratulate all of the people who make this auction such an outstanding annual event, from the student organizers who spend countless hours preparing so that the evening is well organized and well attended, to the alumni and friends who display their extraordinary support by donating and bidding generously.

Have a wonderful evening!

Fuller the Golden Pig

ITEM: 9020

Paul Fuller, Fordham Law School's founding Dean, began the tradition of the Fordham Family, which unites our alumni across the country, and the world, in support of our esteemed alma mater. Our alumni are exceedingly loyal to this school and represent the future for our current students. Because of the support of our alumni, as well as the faculty and deans of this school, the students are the next generation of this family who will go forward and change the world. In honor of Dean Fuller's legacy, the Fordham Student Sponsored Fellowship respectfully names the symbol of our public interest work Fuller the Golden Pig. The winner of Fuller will have his or her name engraved on a plaque prominently in the Law School Atrium.

The annual FSSF Auction has always represented the best of the tradition of strong support and giving from the greater Law School community to our students who choose to dedicate their law school summers to public service work.

When the first Auction was organized in 1992, one of that year's student directors baked a loaf of Irish soda bread to contribute to the silent auction. Seeing no bids on the modest loaf at the end of the silent auction, her co-director friends decided on the spur of the moment to add the soda bread to the live auction. Much to everyone's pleasant surprise, a lively bidding war quickly ensued, and the final bid on the bread reached several hundred dollars. From that year on, the famed Irish soda bread made its annual appearance with much fanfare at the FSSF Auction, and year after year it fetched a price exceeding the previous year – all for the good of our student summer volunteers. This continued for ten years until 2002—the year that Fordham Law's beloved Dean John Feerick ended his 20 year tenure as Dean. At the auction that year, history was made. Thomas Kavalier ('72), a partner at the law firm of Cahill Gordon and a former President of the Fordham Law Alumni Association, brought the auditorium where the live auction is held to a hushed silence and then thunderous applause when he stood to announce that he would set his bid for the soda bread that year at $1,000—for each year of John Feerick's service as Dean. This $20,000 bid was the largest ever made for the Irish soda bread, and was made with the understanding that the lore of the famous soda bread would retire with Dean Feerick.

And so the following year, the student directors of the FSSF were challenged to create a new tradition to tap the same spirit of generosity and giving that the Irish soda bread had attracted for so many years. After three years of testing options, the student directors came upon the concept of a golden pig, to represent a bank to serve as the repository for the generosity of the Fordham Law donors to support students who were living the Law School's motto, "In the Service of Others." The Golden Pig was named Fuller in memory of Paul Fuller, the first Dean of Fordham Law School, and is now auctioned every year as was the Irish soda bread of the past to fill the coffers for summer stipends for our students working in the best legal interests of the public. And so the tradition and the legend continues!
